

Teaching Skills Seminar: Team-Based Learning

Kristi Ferguson, PhD
Susan Lenoach, MA

March 28, 2012
Noon-1PM

HP Smith Conference Room, W256 GH

Turn a passive lecture into active learning using Team-Based Learning (TBL), a method that encourages application of concepts by student teams within a large-class setting. We will outline the major steps in TBL, discuss applications to your teaching, and provide resources to help you explore TBL in your own teaching.

Presented by
The Office of Consultation and Research in Medical Education (OCRME)
University of Iowa Roy J. and Lucille A. Carver College of Medicine

Pre-registration is requested. Please register with Stephanie at 335-8901 or stephanie-burnett@uiowa.edu