

The University of Iowa

Department of Family Medicine

Medical Education Fellowship

The purpose of this 2 year fellowship is to develop and train family physicians early in their careers to fill positions of academic medicine leadership. This will be accomplished by providing them with a rigorous background in medical education theory. Fellows will also have opportunities for developing expertise in effective clinical teaching, strengthening their clinical effectiveness through experience, and exploring their research interests. These activities will be carried out within a supported and mentored context to facilitate their overall leadership skills. They will have the opportunity to fully experience the opportunities of a faculty educator.

The Fellowship will provide the opportunity to:

- Complete course work leading to a Masters in Medical Education(MME) degree at UIHC Carver College of Medicine
- Obtain supported experience in effective medical teaching
- Participate in Family Medicine professional development
- Build upon and further develop their Family Medicine clinical expertise
- Explore and develop research interests and skills
